1. The Challenge

McKay Securities, a leading commercial property investment company with REIT status, faced challenges with outdated and costly server technology. Maintaining the ageing infrastructure was inefficient and unsustainable, prompting the company to seek advice on modernising their IT systems to better support their business needs.

2. The Approach

McKay Securities partnered with HG Technology to explore their options, including both internal and cloud-based hosting solutions. After careful consultation, a cloud-based model was chosen. HG Technology worked closely with McKay's management team to seamlessly transfer existing applications as part of their project management process.

4. The Feedback

"The advice and guidance offered by HG Technology allowed us to make informed choices about the future of our IT infrastructure and how it will support the business."

– Andy Phillips, Finance Manager, McKay Securities PLC

3. The Outcome

The transition to a cloud-based infrastructure delivered significant improvements in security, reliability, and overall IT performance. The new solution enabled consistent software versions across the organisation, simplified the onboarding of new applications, and reduced operational costs by 30%.
